How to Use Alliant Small Business

1. Customers with access to an internal agency Contracting Officer (KO) may use the Alliant Direct Order/Direct Bill feature that allows KOs who have an Alliant delegation of authority to place orders directly using the GSA e-Buy system. GSA maintains a list of authorized Cos who have an Alliant delegation of authority. Obtaining a delegation is a simple, one-time process working with GSA's Alliant Program Office.
2. Customers can also utilize GSA's Assisted Acquisition Services (AAS) to assist with all or part of the Alliant task order life-cycle including:
 - Developing an Alliant task order statement of work based on your business and IT requirements
 - Preparing a Federal Acquisition Regulation (FAR) compliant acquisition strategy
 - Managing the full Request for Proposal and source-selection process using GSA's electronic acquisition systems
 - Providing contract and technical project oversight services throughout the life of the task order, including financial management, billing, deliverable tracking, and task closeout

Customers can work with either GSA's regional distributed AAS staff or FEDSIM to obtain acquisition support services. Contact your local GSA AAS staff for details.

SBAlliance's Program Director can also help you understand and navigate your options. For more information on using the Alliant Small Business contract please contact us at alliant@sballiance-jv.com.
